

FACTSHEET

OUR MISSION

The Palomino Horse Breeders Heritage Foundation is dedicated to preserving the past, present and future of the Palomino Horse and to those who have dedicated themselves to maintaining and perpetuating the breed. The Foundation was created as a way for you to make contributions that are meaningful and make a positive impact on the Palomino Horse, their owners and to those who made significant sacrifices to preserve the Palomino legacy.

All contributions are tax deductible through a 501(c)(3) entity.

OUR GOALS

- Develop a World Class Heritage Museum in Tulsa, Oklahoma
- Create a digital archive of Members and Palominos that made an impact in the horse industry
- Provide Industry Service Provider scholarships for all ages
- Create relationships with other organizations working, competing and breeding Palominos
- Develop educational resources to introduce the Palomino in local community outreach programs

Palomino Horse Breeders Heritage Foundation

Museum Location
 15253 East Skelly Drive
 Tulsa, Ok 74116
 (918) 438-1234

President: Alda Buresh
 Secretary: Carolyn Henderson, Bixby, OK.
info@palominoheritage.com
palominoheritage.com

ARTIFACTS & EXHIBITS

- Historical documentation of the first registered PHBA horse (papers and ownership)
- 161 profiles of Past Presidents
 Youth, Amateur, General Membership
- 44 horses in the Hall of Fame
- 51 people in the Hall of Fame
- 121 Special President Award recipients
- Roy Rogers Historical Display
- Viewing library of all bound Palomino Horses magazines and much more
- Unique Orren Mixer display portraying the Palomino Horse
- List of Celebrity Palomino Horse owners

THERE'S MORE!

BREED RECOGNITION

The Palomino Horse is recognized by 17 other equine organizations

17

HERITAGE IN THE ARENA

The Palomino Horse Breeders Heritage Foundation and sculptor Cowboy Bronze has created a special trophy at the Palomino World Championship

Show to recognize the World Champion in Open and Amateur Ranch Riding.

